Wear something “Red” to celebrate the birth of the Church through the outpouring of the Holy Spirit!
At the Church Council meeting in January, I sent around a clipboard with a sign-up for a ‘Building Projects Work Group’. I put down six lines, and a few vague sentences about the work that needed to be done in the building and a group needed to help coordinate that work. Six brave souls put their names on those lines. And one-by-one, most of them have confessed to me that they were not at all sure what they had signed up for in doing that!

That is faith and trust. It was the willingness to step up and help out, even when one is not exactly sure what will be asked of one, that struck me. I take that for granted in this church, but there are very few places where that happens so regularly.

These six people will not be doing ALL the building work that needs to be done, but they will be organizing and coordinating the work that needs to happen in our building.

Dave Olson, fresh off the end of the hockey season, agreed to coordinate our first big work day to clean out the basements. On May 25th at 9am, we ask any that are able to do some lifting and carrying to bring gloves and come to the church to help remove things from both basements. This needs to happen for our asbestos removal and mold remediation work to be done in June. It will save us nearly $1000 to do this work ourselves, but we will need people to help carry things up and out of the basement.

There will be a dumpster on the Tulane Ave. church yard for seven days, as we need to get rid of many things that were impacted by the flooding and mold. Tables and chairs will need to be cleaned before they go back downstairs, so if you cannot go up and down the stairs or help carry things, perhaps you could come and help wash items that need to be cleaned. Masks will be provided for folks that work in the basements.

Lunch will be provided, as well. Please contact Dave Olson if you have further questions.

If basement clean-up isn’t your thing, or that particular day doesn’t work for you, just know that there are many indoor and outdoor projects to be done. We will be having a rotation of church volunteers mowing this summer (using the riding lawn mower at the church), and there are other outdoor jobs that can be done as well. As for indoor jobs, those “brave souls” will be coordinating clean-up inside as we clean out some of the Christian Ed rooms that have become ‘store rooms’ of too much stuff since we moved the preschool upstairs. They will need people to help clean out those rooms and sort through what can be thrown away, donated or kept. You will be hearing more about that soon.

These building projects and ministry work before us is just that….a leap of faith, in which we are asked to trust each other, to get this done. Many hands make light work, as they say, and I believe that helping hands lighten heavy hearts. This has been a challenging year in our building. Coming together to do this work will lift our hearts and spirits.

With faith and trust —
Staci

PS — A BIG Thanks to Evelyn, Don, Bonnie, John and Becky Krugman for the mulching, flower planting and yard clean-up they did in this last month!

From the Ecumenical Officer
May 2019

In January 2019 an invitation from the Office of Ecumenical Relations of the Presbyterian Church (USA) was sent to the Northern and Southern provinces asking that a Moravian representative be chosen to serve as an advisory, nonvoting member on the Board of Directors for the Presbyterian Mission Agency (PMA). It should be noted that the PMA has a much broader scope of ministry than does our Moravian Board of World Mission. The PMA advises and responds to the General Assembly (comparable to Synod) on priorities, program, and strategies for addressing matters of concern for their many ministry departments. The primary purpose of the PMA is to lead and coordinate the total mission program for their denomination. Bishop Chris Giesler, on the staff of the Moravian Board of World Mission, was chosen as the Moravian representative. Here is his report on this work.

“This invitation helps to fulfill one of the promises made in our Covenant Agreement with the PC(USA) that was adopted by their General Assembly in 2008 and by the Synods of both provinces in 2010. One of the bullet points of the Covenant Agreement states:

- We (Moravians and Presbyterians) covenant to work cooperatively—locally, regionally, and nationally—in mission. Such efforts may include sharing models of existing cooperation, as well as creating new opportunities for common witness and mission.

“The PMA’s main objective over the next two years revolves around inviting congregations, presbyteries, and synods to be a “Matthew 25” church. In doing so, they seek to encourage their local congregations in their vitality, to collectively challenge the structures of racism and white superiority, and to lift God’s children out of the bonds of poverty. This is a daunting task, but after several years of struggle within the denomination, they seem ready to move forward with a new vision and the energy that surrounds it. You can find more information about the Matthew 25 initiative at www.pcusa.org/matthew25.

“At these three days of meetings I was particularly impressed by their honest and respectful conversations around the difficult issues of gender justice and poverty that were each given significant chunks of their valuable time in a very busy schedule. These discussions were held as informational and to help board members gain a deeper understanding of the issues and how they relate to the many program initiatives for which they are responsible.

“The Covenant Agreement with the PC(USA) calls our two denominations to the table of conversation, the table of fellowship, and the Eucharistic or Communion Table. I am pleased to say that I was a part of all of that during our three days of meetings.

“The question that comes to mind for me is, how can we be including our ecumenical partners on the boards of our agencies as well?”

Lord Jesus, we pray for the unity of your church as together we seek to serve you. Help us to learn from one another, that we may more faithfully serve you. Amen.
